FAIR AT THE ARMORY.

Over Twelve Hundred Persons Attended It Yesterday.

Yesterday was the second day of the Market of the First Presbyterian church which ends tonight in the Thirteenth Regiment armory on Adams avenue. Twelve hundred persons were in attendance during the day and if one dollar for each is an estimate of the purchases some idea can be had of the inancal success of the market.

While the returns from each booth have been far n excess of the expectations of the most sangune officers of the Market, the money received from the refreshment department has been proportonately greater than from every other source, excepting the fancy booth. However, each department during the two days has sold an unusually large number of its especial stock and if today's sales increase in proportion to the two previous days, there will be very few articles remaining.

Today the doors will open at 2 o'clock. About 9 o'clock all unsold articles will to be closed up. be disposed of at auction, although many of the most valuable goods will e placed at some particular figure. Supper will be served as usual from 6 until 8 o'clock according to a change of nenu as follows: Raw oysters, baked beans, cold meats, dressed cabbage, brown bread, white bread, crullers, cake, ple, tea, coffee, canned fruit,

DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

Verdict Rendered in the Case of James Martin,

Coroner Kelley held the adjourned nquest as to the death of James Marin, who was killed at the Moosic Delaware and Hudson depot on Tuesday. He heard a whistle and ran out, when a fast freight bore down upon him and whirled his body thirty feet away, resulting in an instantaneous death.

death was accidental and exonerated the trainmen from blame. Martin, who was past middle age, leaves a wife and family.
